PAUPER'S DASH FOR FREEDOM

Pathetic Case of Pepperl

SEES WIFE LAID AWAY

Life Companion Gone, Son in Waupun, he Would Leave Old Scenes

Brooding over the death of his wife and desiring to return to the old home which had sheltered the aged couple for many years Lorenz Pepperl, an inmate of the poor farm, jumped from Poor Commissioner Burdick's cutter this morning and in spite of his advanced years ran rapidly for three blocks in an effort to escape.

Pepperl's wife died at the poor farm Saturday and when the undertaker went to the farm the old man was allowed to accompany the remains back to the city. Until the funeral this morning he stayed at the undertaker's home. After interment was made this morning in the Catholic cemetery Mr. Burdick brought the old man back to the city, intending to take him to the farm after dinner. While watering his horse at the market square trough Pepperl suddenly jumped from the rig and started to run up Fourth street. He was overtaken at Fourth and Main streets and violently resisted being retaken. It required the services of a policeman to get the old man back in the cutter and calm him. Brooding over the death of his wife is thought to have brought on an attack of dementia.

Charles Pepperl, a son, who robbed his aged parents as they were about to be sent to the poor farm and who in police circles for years has had the unsavory reputation of being the meanest man in the city, was recently sent to Waupun for his latest crime.

(Scripps-McRae Dispatch.)

DENVER, Feb. 19.—Without going into the merits of the charges of complicity in the assassination of Steunenberg, public sentiment here favors Mayor Maywood because he was given no opportunity to combat the allegations. CITY CLEANS UP THE GUTTERS

Another harbinger of spring was seen down town today, when the board of public works started a large crew of snow shovelers at work on the gutters in the business district. The snow is being cleared away from the curbstones so as to allow a free passage for the water coming from melting snow to drain off into the sewers.

THE THORNS THAT WHISKEY STREWS

Harrowing Story of Domestic Life of Warnock Family

Depriving his family of the necessities of life to the extent of forcing his children to walk about in the snow barefooted and making his wife saw wood in order that he might gratify his taste for liquor William Warnock, the meanest man in La Crosse county and perhaps in the whole state, has at last been brought to justice and wil lspend the next 45 days in the county jail.

Warnock was arrested Saturday while in a beastly state of intoxication and lodged in central police station. Inquiries developed the fact that he had a wife and six children at Lyttles suffering for the lack of clothing and food. Pitiful tales of the suffering of the family were told to the authorities and yesterday Humane Officer Berry took food and clothing to the wife and children. A most pitiful state of affairs was found in the home. The house was scantily furnished and the children did not have clothes enough to keep them warm in the house. Outside the marks of their bare feet in the snow showed where they had trotted to the barn and on various errands. There was pratically nothing in the house to eat and the flour and meat which the humane officer brought were received with tears of gratitude.

Mr. Berry ascertained that during the winter Mrs. Warnock and the oldest boy have been endeavoring to earn a livelihood by sawing wood for the market. Neighbors occasionally brought in food for them but most of the time the house was nearly bare of eatables.

Robert Ladd, former sheriff, who lives near by, gave the family a pig early in the winter. Warnock cut out the hams and shoulders and sold them for money with which to buy whiskey, leaving the spare portions of the animal for the family.

The county authorities will see that the family does not suffer during Warnock's term of imprisonment and when he is released he will be given to understand that if he does not mend his ways he will speedily be put back behind the bars for a good long term.

Characteristic Dancing Girl Accompanied Him to the Orient

Horace McKinley, the arch land-grafter, is in China, and with him is a "Little Egypt" who was dancing at a San Francisco theatre at the time he found it necessary to "fly the coop."

A Portland, Oregon, dispatch, published in a Tacoma paper Feb. 12th, says of the affair:

"Horace G. McKinley is in Shanghai, China, in company with a well known variety actress, "Little Egypt."

This information was given out today by State Land Agent West, who has been away for a week, and now claims complete information regarding the whereabouts of McKinley. The latter saile in November, his avowed purpose being to work up a railroad franchise.

On the same steamer was a young member of the Pillsbury family of Minneapolis. McKinley was acquainted with Pillsbury, but whether they sailed on the same steamer because both were interested in the same project is not known to Mr. West.

"Just before he took his departure McKinley became enamored of 'Little Egypt,' who was playing in San Francisco. The admiration was mutual. McKinley proposed to take her with him, and she left at once, to the great discomfort of her manager. Her departure broke up the show.

"Marie Ware McKinley is in San Francisco, and, it is said, knows that McKinley took 'Little Egypt' to China.

"McKinley is the arch land fraud man wanted by the government."

PRES. DEMANDS A LOCK CANAL

Points Out Fact Foreign Engineers Disfavor This System

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—The president this afternoon sent a message to congress approving the lock type of canal for the trans-isthmian waterway.

The president says it will be noticed that the American engineers on the consulting board and on the commission by more than a two to one majority, favor the lock, whereas the foreign engineers are a uni against it. A lock canal could be built in half the time at half the cost and at much less risk, and would be easier to enlarge than the sea level canal.

RETURNS LOOT, ESCAPED JAIL

A boy residing near the Catholic cemetery saved himself from a term in the county jail or reform school this morning, when he proceeded post haste to the police station and deposited two sets of harness rings stolen from a farmer's rig last Thursday.

The rings were taken from Tollef Hetland's horses while the team was standing on the market square and the theft was reported to the police. Officer Dugan got rack of the rings and this morning found the boy who took them. The lad was given a half hour to show up at central station with the property or take the consequences. In about half that time the rings were in the possession of the police and this afternoon they were returned to the owner.

Mis Anna Ratke, 1524 Badger street, was pleasantly surprised Saturday evening by about thirty of her friends. Cards and music formed the amusement and all thoroughly enjoyed the evening.

PASTORS FAVOR "TAINTED"

Rev. Sam McKee Points Out That Money has no Moral Standard

La Crosse pastors believe in accepting so-called "tainted" money on the theory that money itself cannot be tainted; that it has no moral standard.

This was the general theme brought out in the address of Rev. S. L. McKee of West Salem before the pastors' union this morning, and the idea was concurred in by all but one pastor present.

Rev. McKee contended that it was difficult to draw the line; that all money to a certain extent was "tainted" by questionable business methods. He laid particular stress upon the argument that when a church accepts money it is not sanctioning a man or the business methods by means of which he secured the currency. Along this line he pointed out that Jesus kept Judas in the rank and file of his disciples even though the latter did questionable things, and that He also accepted Zachias' money.

LANGDON BREAKS LEG ON SIDEWALK

Slippery Condition Results in Injury of Well Known Man

John Langdon, member of the fire and police commission, is laid up at his home with a fracture of the limb resulting from a fall on a slippery sidewalk. Mr. Langdon fell on his way home from the theatre Saturday night, at the corner of Tenth and State streets, a block from his home. He managed to reach home unassisted, although in terrible pain, and the physician who was called marvelled at the fact that he had encompassed the distance with his leg in the condition it was found.

A small bone in the ankle is broken and in addition the ankle itself was sprained. The lower part of the limb has been put in a plaster cast and Mr. Langdon will endeavor with the assistance of crutches to get to the office each day and attend to his business.

BIRD COMPLIES FIGURES ON SCHOOL WORK

Supt. J. P. Bird has compiled a statement regarding the recent examination for admission to the high school, comparing the examinations of today with tohse of a generation ago from investigations and comparisons made by one of the noted educators of the country.

Some interesting ideas are advanced, the facts seeming to indicate that fewer branches were studied in the olden days, that the school year was one-third longer than no, that the age of pupils was greater, and that school work in the common branches a generation ago was vastly inferior to that of the present day.

WEATHER FORECAST

ASK SOMETHING FOR NOTHING

Would Ride on Cars Free

PLAN IS CALLED ILLEGAL

Aldermen Have no More License to Ride Free Than Citizens

Members of the common council seek free transportation on the street railway. When the ordinance granting the railway company the privilege of extending its lines in certain sections of the city is presented to the council for its first and second readings there will be incorporated in it a provision allowing aldermen free rides over all lines, providing that this step is not a violation of the anti-pass law enacted by the Wisconsin legislature four years ago.

City Attorney Mahoney has been requested by members of the council to write to the attorney general and ascertain if the council can take this action. The letter has been written and the aldermen who are back of the move are awaiting a reply from Mr. Iurdevant.

When the last franchise was granted the street railway company a provision was incorporated allowing policemen free transportation. If the proposition to allow the aldermen free rides is illegal the ordinance giving the privilege to policemen is also invalid. Hence the attorney general's ruling is awaited with more than ordinary interest.

HONESTY OF NEWSPAPER-MEN AND RIGHT THINKING

Two Essential Ideals Pointed Out by Rev. Lowe in Timely Sermon on Ideals and Public Press

In the mind of the Rev. J. S. Lowe, who last evening took up the topic "Christian Ideals and the Public Press," at the Universalist church, right thinking and the right sort of information, properly handled, are the essential ideals. He believes the press should prove all things and select the best.

Preparatory to taking up this all-important subject Rev. Lowe interviewed a large number of local newspaper men qualified to express themselves comprehensively upon the subject. In this manner information unknown to those outside the newspaper offices was obtained, information which, to many, throws a new lights upon the public press.

Rev. Lowe declared the vast power wielded by the daily newspapers of this country is beyond comprehension. In the moulding of what we know as public opinion, he said he could conceive no greater power; it eclipsed the power of the tongue. He said that the responsibility for the wellfare of mankind, resting upon the shoulders of newspaper men was a mighty one, one scarcely appreciated by those not familiar with the power ascribed to newspapers, and those who had not studied the question thoroughly and intimately.

Rev. Lowe dwelt comprehensively upon corporate influence upon the press of the country. He said that in one thing all the newspaper men he had interviewed were agreed, that in the long run there was no profit in the independent newspaper. He said the independent newspaper was started and might run for a long time as an independent newspaper, and that while it remained so it would be fearless in its expressions, but that he had learned that in almost all cases, sooner or later, the independent newspaper found starvation staring it in the face. It then became a question of an ignominous fate or the acceptance of a subsidy from some corporate interest, always ready to offer dollars for its support of said corporate interest. He said that thus the independent newspaper became subservient to that corporation, but the fact that it handled this corporation's interests to the advantage of its owners, did not mean that the remainder of its power was not wielded for the general public good. He said he believed nearly all newspapers were conducted for the public wellfare to a large degreen, regardless of possible control by corporations.

As an illustration he took the case of a very rich man whose large business interests depended much upon the favor of public opinion. This man, he said, usually appreciated the power of the press, and sought to buy up or establish a newspaper, which he could dictate to and which would be conducted for his interests. This newspaper, he said, notwithstanding its subserviance to its owner, would not necessarily be conducted against the public good—especially upon matters not concerning the business of its owner.

In this very instance, he said, came in the ideal of right thinking. The public, knowing these special interests, upon reading discussions in this newspaper, concerning them, should weigh the information and opinions offered, by right thinking.

Rev. Lowe quoted one newspaper man in a position to know, as saying: "If newspapers were conducted along Christian ideals, they'd be broke in a week."

He said the public frequently decried newspapers for hastiness in the publication of facts not thoroughly verified. For this condition he blamed the public, and its thirst for instantaneous news. He believe a newspaper that withheld news until it was thoroughly verified would die aborning. He said that such was the public demand for news to the minute, and such was the competition in the newspaper business, that the newspaper which failed to meet this demand would have less than a corporal's guard of readers. He also blamed the public largely for exaggeration and high coloring ascribed to much of the matter appearing in the daily press.

The speaker also told of the news agencies maintained in the larger cities by the great corporations where the most skillful newspaper men in the country are paid large salaries to juggle news and rewrite it in such form that it will be attractive to the newspapers to which it is sent and at the same time so cleverly written as to be a brilliant argument in favor of the corporations maintaining the bureaus. Most all newspapers receive news articles from these agencies by the score every week, though little of it is published.

Rev. Lowe talked comprehensively of the various phases of the press, the influences which guided it, etc., and concluded by the declaration that on the whole he believed this vast power was being wielded for the best interests of mankind.

It was his opinion that if the public was as ready to appreciate the great force of the modern newspaper, as are the corporate interests, the independent newspaper would not have such a hard row to hoe.

His argument, summed up, as to newspaper men, is that natural honesty is brought into war with harrowing circumstances of finance which make the acceptance of corporate aid necessary to life.

A very appreciative congregation thoroughly enjoyed the pastor's able discussion of the topic.

DR. J. R. FOSTER FULLY RECOVERED

VETERAN DENTIST IS ON DECK AT HIS OFFICE

Dr. J. R. Foster, the veteran dentist whose office at No. 206 South Fourth street has so long been one of the busiest in Western Wisconsin, has entirely recovered from his recent illness, and is attending to his patrons with his usual skill and promptness. He is looking well, and says he is as vigorous as ever.

Since Dr. Foster's sickness, an attack so severe as to keep him from the office for some time, gossip more or less idle and more or less purposeful has spread the report that he is not now and will not be in a condition to attend to business. This is untrue, and Dr. Foster feels that in justice to his old friends and patrons he should make a public denial of the story, which he did today to a Tribune reporter, as follows:

"To the Public:

"Owing to the impression that has been spread to the effect that I am incapacitated for business, I desire to say that I am at work every day at my office No. 206 South Fourth street, and that I am in vigorous health, having entirely recovered from the recent indisposition the seriousness of which has been magnified by either dishonest or mistaken people. Permit me to invite all my friends and patrons to call as usual. With best wishes, I am,

"Yours respectfully,

"J. R. FOSTER."

When asked just what he meant by the suggestion that the story that he is incapacitated might have been promulgated maliciously, Dr. Foster smiled inscrutably, and said, "The way of the competitor is beyond understanding."

GALESVILLE BUSINESS MEN GIVE DAVIS GOOD SENDOFF

Popular Lumberman of Neighboring City Who Goes South This Month Banqueted by Friends

Mr. F. G. Davis of Galesville was in the city Saturday shaking hands with friends, bidding them farewell as he leaves next Tuesday for Macon, North Carolina, with his family, where he will make his future home. Mr. Davis has a host of friends in La Crosse, who share the regrets of his Galesville friends in losing him from the business and social activities in which he always took an active part and their best wishes will go with him to his new home in the sunny south.

The Galesville Republican has the following to say of Mr. Davis' departure:

"If F. G. Davis ever had any doubts as to his standing in Galesville that doubt must have been removed Tuesday evening, when sixty of his gentlemen friends and business associates gathered around a banquet table, toasted and feasted him, assured him of their high esteem and wished him health and happiness in the field to which he will soon remove.

"Tuesday evening was not an ideal night for a social number. The blizzard that started early in the day continued into the night, and a seat by the firesade was preferable to a tramp through the drifts. However, when the hour of nine o'clock arrived a company of sixty members of the Galesville Business Men's association and others was seated in the dinning room of the Commercial hotel.

"Landlord Gardner had spared no pains to please his guests and make this social number one long to be remembered. The folding doors from the dining room to the back parlor were thrown open and the whole space converted into a dining hall, the tables extending the entire length. When the guests were eated, Dr. Lawrence, as master of ceremonies, spoke briefly of the occasion, and on behalf of the company presented Mr. Davis a fine gold-headed cane. Mr. Davis responded, thanking his friends not only for the gift but for their many evidences of friendship during his long residence in Galesville, and in concluding, extended an invitation to the entire company to charter a car and visit him on his southern plantation.

"The company then proceeded to dispose of the spread Landlord Gardner had prepared. The menu was served in courses as follows:

Oysters Stewed—Raw
Baked Salmon Escalloped Potatoes
Turkey, Cranberry Sauce
Mashed Potatoes
Olives Celery
English Plum Pudding
Vanilla Ice Cream Coffee
Assorted Cakes

"W. J. Maxwell, who will succeed Mr. Davis in the management of the lumber company, was present and was given a cordial reception. He thanked the company for the warm welcome given him and declared that he was glad his lot had been cast among Galesville people.

"Mr. Davis will leave for the south about Feb. 20."

NEW ATHLETIC ASSN. FORMED

An athletic association for which a name has not yet been chosen has been formed by a number of enterprising young men of the north side and they are to have their gymnasium in the chapel building at the corner of Wood and North streets.

Instructor BoBtsford of the Y. M. C. A. has been secured to coach them.

"We are not going to solicit funds from the merchants," said one of the members," but we will give an entertainment in the near future and earn our money with which we will buy mats and other necessary equipments. Baths will also be installed and the boys claim that they will have an up-to-date "gym."

AT THE THEATRES

The "real" show has come to town and opened an eight nights engagement at the theatre yesterday to two large audiences. The company is well balanced, the specialties are pleasing and the lady orchestra a treat to the music loving patrons of the theatre. A concert is given each evening before the performance, beginning when the doors open and continuing until the curtain rises. Matinees will be given daily, admission 10 cents to all, and the bill will be changed at each performance, the night prices being 10 and 25 cents. Seats can be reserved at Young's drug store. This evening the four act comedy drama, "The Man From the West" will be presented.

This week's program at the Bijou is promised as the best vaudeville performance ever seen in La Crosse. The performance starts with Lenore and St. Clair in their comedy sketch, "A Bunch of Nonesense," and is a scream from start to finish. Miss Edwards who is booked as an aerial aritst is the best ever seen in her line and received well earned applause. Mr. F. Daly Burgess and his dog Finnegan is one of the features of this week's bill. Finnegan actually talks as no other dog in the world could do. From start to finish they keep the audience in good humor. MaDell and Corbbey give a musical act that is thoroughly appreciated and the impersonations of Miss Corbbey are laughable in the extreme. Mr. Will Armond renders the latest eastern song hit, "She Waits by the Deep Blue Sea," illustrated with beautiful colored slides and came in for his usual share of applause. The moving pictures are new and interesting. All the way through, in fact, the performance from start to finish is a first class one and deserves crowded houses all week. The matinee this afternoon was well attended.

INJURED ONES RECOVERING

Miss Minnie Tietz who had her leg fractured some time ago at the rear of her residence, 1218 Charles street, where she slipped and fell, was able to be out yesterday for the first time.

The limb is still weak, however, and Miss Tietz cannot get about without assistance although she has discarded her crutches.

John Driscoll of Sumner street who slipped and fell some time ago and fractured his right leg near the knee was able to be out today for the first time in several weeks. Mr. Driscolll fears that the leg muts be reset.

A Test Will Tell

What Liquozone Can Do for You--and It Is Free.

You who are waiting—we ask you again to try Liquozone; to try it at our expense. You'll regret this delay when you learn what the product means to you.

Do as millions have done—stop doubting; give Liquozone a test. Then judge it by results. Germ diseases—and there are scores of them—call for a germicide. Those are the diseases to which Liquozone best applies. Don't cling blindly to old-time remedies, if you don't find them effective. Let us prove the power of the new.

What Liquozone Is.

The virtues of Liquozone are derived solely from gases. The formula is sent to each user. The process of making requires large apparatus, and from 8 to 14 days' time. It is directed by chemists of the highest class. The object is to so fix and combine the gases as to carry into the system a powerful tonic-germicide.

Contact with Liquozone kills any form of disease germ, because germs are of vegetable origin. Yet to the body Liquozone is not only harmless, but helpful in the extreme. That is its main distinction. Common germicides are poison when taken internally. That is why medicine has been so helpless in a germ disease. Liquozone is exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying; yet no disease germ can exist in it.

We purchased the American rights to Liquozone after thousands of tests had been made with it. Its power had been proved, again and again, in the most difficult germ diseases. Then we offered to supply the first bottle free in every disease that required it. And over one million dollars have been spent to announce and fulfill this offer.

The result is that 11,000,000 bottles have been used, mostly in the past two years. Today there are countless cured ones, scattered everywhere, to tell what Liquozone has done.

But so many others need it that this offer is published still. In late years, science has traced scores of diseases to germ attacks. Old remedies do not apply to them. We wish to show those sick ones—at our cost—what Liquozone can do.

Where It Applies.

These are the diseases in which Liquozone has been most employed. In these it has earned its widest reputation. In all of these troubles we supply the first bottle free. And in all—no matter how difficult—we offer each user a two months' further test without the risk of a penny.

BUSINESSMEN PROBE $50,000 BONUS DEAL

STEVENS POINT, Wis., Feb. 19.—The people of Stevens Point were "taken in" on an industrial proposition submitted to them a couple of weeks ago by a man who claimed to be manager and principal owner of the Lloyd Manufacturing company of Minneapolis. Three largely attended public meetings were held, when he stated that his company employed 350 men, 60 per cent of whom were paid $6 per day, and that the monthly payroll was from $24,000 to $30,000. On account of the Great Northern railroad having begun condemnation proceedings to acquire the lands now occupied by the Lloyd company, they would move to Stevens Point, provided a bonus of $50,000 was given. One half of this latter sum would be expended in erecting two immense concrete buildings and the other $25,000 would reimburse the Lloyd company for expenses of moving machinery, loss of time, etc. Local people took hold of the proposition with enthusiasm, circulating petitions among taxpayers to guarantee payment of the bonus which would be raised by the issue of bonds, and finally a committee of leading business men was appointed to visit Minneapolis and investigate the Lloyd concern. This committee consisted of A. R. Week, E. J. Pfiffner, P. J. Jacobs, D. E. Frost, W. H. Coye and R. A. Cook, who represent the principal banking and manufacturing interests here.

The committee returned last night and report that the Lloyd concern is a small plant manufacturing baby carriages, boys express wagons and similar articles; that they employ about seventy people, nearly all of whom are girls and boys, and that the highest wages paid is $2.87 per day drawn by one man.

BOOKLET ON FAIRYLAND

The artistic booklet on the fairyland of California resorts issued today by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway in the interest of its Overland Limited service surpasses anything ever attempted by a western railway. In beauty of design, wealth of color and shading and excellence of half-tone work the pamphlet easily is the feature of the season's advertising. The production is limited, and the distribution soon will end unless the company decides to prepare a second edition. Local artists contributed some of the color groups and scenes.

PINT OF PEERLESS IN BIG POWER DEAL

On Wednesday were filed in the office of the register of deeds at Madison articles of incorporation for a company to develop the water power at Kilbourn. The incorporators are Philip L. Spooner, Magnus Swenson and E. J. B. Schubring, the capital stock is $1,500,000 divided into 15,000 shares of $100 each.

What will come of the development of this power, the greatest in Wisconsin, is difficult to predict. It is claimed by engineers who have made examinations, that at least 7,000 horse power is assured in reasonable low water. The fall in the river above the proposed site is so sharp that a 17-foot dam will not back water much in dells, but it will improve the navigation between Kilbourn and this wonder of nature. What use will be made of this power is to be seen later.

Incidentally it may be stated that the people of Baraboo and Kilbourn are pretty certain that the ells-Devils Lake road will be built and operated with power generated at the proposed dam.

FLEETHORSE HURT; HAS TO BE SHOT

"Harry," one of the handsomest and fleetest animals in the Palmer stables, met a tragic end Saturday morning and the livery is in mourning.

A patron of the stables had the horse out with a cutter late Friday night. In sloughing around a sharp turn while going at a fast gait the driver, realizing that a tipover was imminent, changed the horse's direction slightly and pulled it up sharp to avoid running into the opposite curbing. The animal could not stop, however, and collided with a post set on the curbing, falling to the ground disabled. Teh horse was found to have sustained a severe fracture of the upper part of a forelimb and an officer put it out of its misery with well directed revolver shot Saturday morning.

SURPRISED DOCTOR.

Illustrating the Effect of Food.

The remarkable adaptability of Grape-Nuts food to stomachs so disordered that they will reject everything else, is illustrated by the case of Mrs. H—— of Racine, Wis.

"Two years ago," she says, "I was attacked by a stomach trouble so serious that for a long time I could not take much of any sort of food. Even the various kinds prescribed by the doctor produced most acute pain.

"We then got some Grape-Nuts food, and you may imagine my surprise and delight when I found that I could eat it with a relish and without the slightest distress.

"When the doctor heard of it he told me to take several small portions each day, because he feared I would grow tired of it as I had of all other food.

"But, to his astonishment, (and that of everybody else), I did not tire of Grape-Nuts, and became better day by day, till, after some weeks, my stomach entirely recovered and I was able to eat anything my appetite craved.

"My nerves, which had become so weakened that I feared I would become insane, were also restored by the Grape-Nuts food in connection with Postum Coffee which has become our table beverage. I appreciate most gratefully and thankfully the good that your food preparations have done me, and shall be glad to answer any letters inquiring as to my experience." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

DETLOFF TRIED TO ESCAPE

William Dettloff, who was Saturday adjudged insane, made a daring effort to escape from Undersheriff Scott while being brought to the south side from police station No. 3. He jumped from the cutter near the Monitor brewery and ran north on Mill street. The bronchoes which Mr. Scott was driving became frightened at his yell at Dettloff to stop and tore at a mad gait down the causeway. They were finally quieted and turned about with Dettloff in the lead several blocks.

Dr. Egan, who was driving behind Mr. Scott, had in the meantime turned his horse about in pursuit of the prisoner. Dettloff took to the alleys and back yards off Mill street and played a foxy game of hide and seek for a time but was finally taken into custody by the undersheriff, secured in the sleigh and brought to the county jail.

DECIDE PROMOTING ASS'N. MERGER

At a special meeting of the Progressive association to be called to order in the small council chamber at the city hall at 8 this evening the project to amalgamate with the board of trade will be definitely acted upon.

At the last meeting of the board of trade the plan of the directors of the two bodies submitted a plan to join forces which will either be approved or rejected tonight by the Progressive association. The proposition was to name the new organization "The Board of Trade and Progressive Association" and to admit members on a sliding scale according to their business rank.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. J. M. Byrne of 233 Mill street was very pleasantly surprised Friday evening in honor of her birthday anniversary. The guests presented Mrs. Byrne with a handsome cut glass vase the presentation being made by Mrs. George W. Young.

Dainty refreshments were served and all enjoyed the evening very much. Those present were Mesdames Geo. Young, L. Bamberger, P. Valier, Erickson, Frohock, John Downs, M. Shackley, Wm. Dwyer, M. J. Sullivan, Cramer, L. Murphy, H. Byrne, Alice Cummings, Anna Mann, Ida Fay, B. O'Connell, Hunt, Flannigan, Misses M. O'Connell and Miss Margaret Connelly.

SURPRISE PARTY.

Miss Rose Stellpflug was very pleasantyl surprised last Monday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Leinfelder of Ninth and Ferry streets, by the following young ladies: Misses Etta and Grace Guertin, May Dvorak, Mannie Bartel, Jennie and Jessie O'Keefe, Angeline McHugh, Francis Padesky, Anna Stellpflug, Miss Dunn and Miss Miller.

FIELDS AND CHORUS GOOD; REST A BIT MEDIOCRE

People who saw Lew Fields in "It Happened in Nordland" at the La Crosse theatre Saturday night are surprised that with the selection of such a magnificent chorus and accoutrements Fields did not surround himself with a better supporting company.

The chorus is one of the most attractive ever seen here, and the costumes little short of superb. Mr. Fields is very clever but there was something essential lacking in his support. The music was good and the scenic effects delightful.

Harry Davenport as Prince George of Nebula who had been ordered by the Czar to wed Queen Elsa of Nordland made a decided hit in the songs "Absinthe Frappe" and "A Little Class of Two," being assisted in the latter by Phyllis Rankin, as Katherine Peepfogle, American ambassadress to Nordland. In the Frappe song he was assisted by a delightful chorus novelty.

Miss Rankin as Katherine, who saved the reputation of the real queen Elsa, and her long lost brother's life by impersonating the queen of Nordland, made an instantaneous hit with the audience. Anna Doherty as Parthenia Schmitt, maid to the princess who took Dr. Blotz's beauty remedies, who was in love with the peasant boy, whose military suit she gave to Hubert, was attractive throughout the piece. Denman Maley as the prime minister attracted some attention and Baron Sparta, minister of war, the big man with the small voice, attracted numerous smiles.

The Indian dance, with its beautiful girls and magnificent costumes, was a very pleasing feature of the performance. "Bandana Land," sung by Mayme Perkins and the chorus, was one of the catchiest songs of the many presented.

The naval maneuvers and their planning by Lew Fields as the new secretary of a non-existing navy, was a laughable farce.

FATHER OF GIRL IS STILL ANGRY

Another phase of the sensational marriage of Frank Sager and Bertha Anderson, the youthful coupue who were married in Winona after being refused a license here, threatens to get into the courts before long.

Mr. Anderson, father of the girl, was in Winona yesterday and stated that he intended to swear out a complaint against Edward Sager, father of his daughter's husband, alleging that he committed perjury when he signed an affidavit to the effect that his son was 20 years of age and that Miss Anderson was 18.

The two Sagers have already been bound over to the district court in Fairmont on the charge of abduction.

POSTAL SAVINGS BANK SYSTEM

The bill introduced in congress by Congressman Snapp, known as House File 48, providing for a postal savings bank system, has aroused some interest among financial institutions and bankers in La Crosse as well as elsewhere on account of its provisions. Among these may be mentioned the exemption of deposits from taxation, and legal process, accounts are also made non-transferable and interest at the rate of two percent is allowed on such deposits.

The bill contemplates the investment of deposits by the government in government bonds, state bonds, and in the bonds of municipalities and counties in the United States, but only in municipal and city bonds in municipalities of 20,000 or more population and counties of 40,000 or more population and municipal bonds will not be considered from cities having an existing indebtedness of five per cent of the assessed valuation no matter what the population may be.

TO ADVERTISERS.

After May 1, 1906, the display ADVERTISING RATES of The Tribune will be 12½ cents per column-inch. This represents an advance of 2½ cents per column-inch. Contracts will be accepted up to that date at the old rate, but they will not be solicited.

The reason! There is NO MONEY in advertising at 10 cents per column-inch. A steady increase in the cost of production has been maintained, with which advertising rates have not kept pace. Added to the increased price paid for labor, warranted by a parallel increase in the cost of living, all "fair" newspapers and job printers on Jan. 1, 1906 inaugurated the 8-hour day, instead of the 9-hour day, the result being an increase of over 11 per cent in the cost of production. This renders it impossible to make fair earnings at the old rate.

Advertisers in The Tribune, however, lose nothing, because the circulation of this paper has increased more than 1,200 in the past six months, and is steadily growing. In substantiation of this statement we renew our offer to enter into any fair arrangement for establishing the truth about La Crosse circulation, under the auspices of The Merchants' Association, and WE AGREE TO PAY THE ENTIRE COST OF THIS INVESTIGATION provided it does not show that we have the largest circulation (country and city) of any La Crosse daily newspaper.

THE PUBLIC PRESS.

In his sermon Sunday evening the Rev. J. S. Lowe of the Universalist church took up the very interesting topic, "Christian Ideals and the Public Press," and so comprehensively was the subject handled that those who listened will view newspapers in a different light in the future. That there is a certain amount of corruption in some newspaper offices Rev. Lowe was lead to believe, from his investigations, but that as a whole the power of the press was for the best interests of mankind, was his conclusion. He pointed to the vast, incomprehensible power wielded by the newspapers of the United States with their 70,000,000 of regular readers and placed upon the shoulders of the newspaper man a great responsibility for the moulding of that great force known as public opinion.

"It is within the power of the newspaper man," said Rev. Lowe, "to make a man, in a very short time. And it is within his power to break him in less time."

Rev. Lowe marveled that the reading public was not as ready to appreciate the power of the public press as are the giant corporate interests which now threaten the wellfare of the country.

It is discussions of problems of everyday life, such as these, that will make men go to church. Modern application of Christianity and Christian ideals is what the modern church-going public wants.

The supply met the demand at the Universalist church last night.

THE MERGER.

Tonight the members of the La Crosse Progressive Association will decide the fate of the organization—that is, they will decide whether there shall be two promoting organizations, or a single mammoth organization to promote the wellfare of the Gateway City.

La Crosse does not need two promoting organizations, any more than a horse needs two tails. But it needs an organization that will DO THINGS, and unless the merger is to effect this, a merger will be worthless.

If the merger takes place—as it seems certain it will—there must be a community of all interests, all factional feeling must be abolished and the organization must work as a unit. The Tribune is of the opinion that there is a considerable question as to the advisability of the proposed sliding scale arrangement of dues. It is almost a certainty that classification and discrimination will result. It is certain that the man who is asked to pay $1 per year for membership will not feel, and will not be, on the same footing with the manufacturer who pays from $5 to $25 per year. This is a question which needs deep study for proper solution. It might be well to go to each member of the board of trade and Progressive Association with a subscription paper. Permit each man to subscribe whatever he felt able, to the merged association for the year. Let each man understand, however, that a subscription of less than, say $2.50, would be unacceptable.. If the proper spirit prevails this system would net the board more cash revenue than any membership system which might be proposed; it would do away with the classification, for the membership fee would be $2.50 or some other stipulated amount, and the excess would be in the form of bonus to encourage the work of the board, given by those members well able to support the organization to a larger extent than by the mere membership fee.

It seems to be a popular impression that when the consolidation is consumated, old members of the board of trade will retain their membership by the simple payment of dues, while members of the Progressive Association shall be accepted into the organization as new and individual members, to be balloted upon individually. This does not seem quite fair to the Progressive association members. If there is to be individual ballot upon members of the new consolidated organizations, let every man, including the members of the old board, be balloted upon. If members of the board are to be admitted as a body upon payment of dues, let the Progressive Association members be admitted as a body upon payment of dues. According to legal opinion, however, one body must maintain its organization, so to get "a square deal" the forming of an entirely new organization would be necessary to let everybody in on an equal footing. As the name is to be changed, why not reorganize both to obtain this important result.

This organization must be started right and fairly to get desired results. Let the new organization start on a great democratic basis that will get results.

Results is what La Crosse wants.

A fair merger will bring results.

HAPPINESS—LAZINESS.

A prominent Chicago club woman has been advising young married women who have to struggle against insufficient income to adopt the "serene attitude" and find peace from worry.

One woman who recently come from the orient has started a fad of the East Indian philosopher of "repose," and it is running through all grades of New York society like wild-fire, says the Milwaukee Journal. She teaches that the one thing necessary to human happiness is to sit comfortably in some quiet corner, fold your hands lightly but firmly and keep softly saying "Um" over to yourself until you are what she calls "in tune with the Infinite."

Now, all this sounds very sweet and enticing. But the good, plain, old-fashioned word "laziness" expresses the whole doctrine better.

This is a fine philosophy for turtles. Turtles never worry. Something like "Um" is all they ever have been known to say. Lazing all day long, they have the "serene attitude" and the "repose" in highest perfection. And it is said that they sometimes live 1,000 years.

People who never worry never do anything else of consequence. They may not be turtles, but they might just as well be.

Good, sound worry of the right sort is a spur to effort.

Discontent with wrong conditions is the mind's first step toward right ones. After all worry has its uses.

Few there are who have not noted that the dame who fusses and frets and scolds the most generally keeps the cleanest kitchen and makes the best bread!

The Tribune calls attention to the completeness of its story of the Washington wedding on Saturday afternoon.

Just out of our goodness we propose that the suffering public of La Crosse tender Weather Forecaster Oberholzer, a swell banquet for past favors.

While Uncle Sam is settling disputes in foreign nations would it not be well to have some foreign power step in and arrange things with our senate and its rate bill?

JUST LIFE

Given as the most beautiful thing he ever composed in the following poem by James Lawrence Dunbar, known as the poet to the colored race, who died recently:

When Malindy Sings.

G'way an' quit dat noise, Miss Lucy—
Put dat music book away;
What's de use to keep on tryin'!
Ef you practice twell you're gray
You can't sta't no notes a-flyin'
Like de ones dat rants and rings
F'om de kitchen to de big woods
When Malindy sings.

Aint you nevah heerd Malindy?
Blessed soul take up de cross'
Look heah, ain't you jokin' honey?
Well, you don't know what you los'.
Y'ought to heah dat gal a-wa'blin';
Robins, la'ks, an' all dem things
Heish dey moufs an' hides dey faces
When Malindy sings.

Fiddlin' man jes stop his fidlin',
Lay his fiddle on de she'f;
Mokin'-bird quit tryin' to whistle,
'Cause he jes so shamed hisse'f.
Folks a-playin' on de banjo
Draps dey fingahs on de strings—
Bless yo' soul—fu'gits to mov'em
When Malindy sings.

She jes spreads her mouf and hollahs
"Come to Jesus," twell you heah
Sinnahs' tremblin' steps an' voices,
Timid like a-drawin' neah;
Den she tu'ns to "Rock of Ages,"
Simply to de cross she clings,
An' you fin' yo' teahs a-drappin'
When Malindy sings.

Who dat says dat humble praises
Wif de Mahster nevah counts?
Heish yo' mouf, I heah dat music
Ez hit rises up and mounts—
Floatin' by de hills and valleys,
Way above dis buryin' sod,
Es it makes its way in glory
To de very gates of God!

Towsah, stop dat ba'kin'! heah me?
Mandy, make dat chile keep still,
Don't you heah de echoes callin'
F'om de valley to de hill?
Let me listen, I can heah it
Th'oo de bresh of angels' wings,
Sof' an' sweet, "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," Ez Malindy sings.

INDIANAPOLIS SENTINEL CHANGES OWNERSHIP

Indianapolis, Feb. 19. — The Star says: "According to the statement of Frank J. Baker, editor-in-chief of the Indianapolis Sentinel, that paper has passed into the hands of C. F. Binkley, a Philadelphia broker. Mr. Baker stated further that the resignations of the members of the staff are in the hands of the new management, but up to this time no action has been taken. The consideration involved in the transaction is not known.

"J. C. Schaffer, proprietor of the Chicago Evening Post, and former president of the Indiana Star League, made an offer which was seriously considered until Mr. Binkley appeared, and after securing the holdings of Thomas Taggart, chairman of the national Democratic committee, increased the price offered by Mr. Schaffer and secured the property. Mr. Baker would not say anything regarding the future policy of the paper.

Scramble for Penna. Passes

Pittsburg, Feb. 19.—The news that the Pennsylvania railroad has broken the rule against passes caused a scramble for the offices of Colonel Sam Moody, general passenger agent of the lines west of Pittsburg, and Vice President James McCrea. Their mails were burdened with requests, and there were scores of important callers who had enjoyed privileges in the past and hoped they would be remembered now that the bars have been let down a little.

One of the men who had received an annual pass was called up from the railroad offices and told not to allow it to become known that he had a pass.

It is understood that at least six annuals have been scattered to what is considered the best possible advantage in Pittsburg. Some newspaper men have been favored, and they are not publishers. It is thought in business and shipping circles that the circle of annual passes will be extended shortly, but not to the extent it was before.

ENGINEER OF FAST MAIL HAS A NARROW ESCAPE

Train Crashes Into a Freight and he Manages to Escape After Being Severely Scalded

A wreck which might have resulted very disastrously occurred yesterday morning about 8 o'clock near East Hastings, where the fast mail train No. 57, one of the fastest trains on the road, adn the second section of freight train No. 68 came together in a head-end collision.

Pat Doyle was engineer on the passenger and Engineer Blaze was at the throttle of the engine which pulled the freight.

The passenger engine was almost buried beneath the freight engine and both engines were almost completely demolished.

Engineer Doyle of the passenger engine who did not get out in time was held in the cab of the engine for several minutes and was painfully scalded, but finally managed to find a place where he could crawl out. He was able to resume duties today.

No one else was injured but the passengers were badly shaken up and frightened and several of them received minor bruises.

The street railway company seeks a franchise to construct a new line up Cass street to Ninth and over to Market. This proposition and some other poposed changes in the lines, have been before the committee on streets and alleys for a couple of weeks and it is said meet with the approval of a majority of the members of that body. What action the council as a committee of the whole will take on the propositions cannot be determined at this time.

AGED WOMAN PUTS OUT FIRE, IS ILL FROM SHOCK

What might have been a very serious conflagration occurred at the home of Mr. Christ Pederson 709 South Eighth street Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Pederson and family had just left their home to attend the theatre, leaving Mrs. Pederson's mother, Mrs. Johnson, an old lady 82 years old who lives with them, at the home. Mrs. Johnson stepped out of the house just as the Pedersons left and on returning found the drapery in one of the arches in flames. She grabbed a pail of water and climbing upon a chair, tore the drapery from the archway and subdued the flames without raising an alarm.

Owing to Mrs. Johnson's extreme age the shock unstrung her nervous system and she is quite ill.

KING CHRISTIAN LAID IN TOMB BESIDE ANCESTORS

Roskilde, Denmark, Feb. 19. — The magnificent old Gothic church here presented a brilliant spectacle when King Christian IX, amid the thunder of guns, the sonorous tones of the orga nand the blare of trumpets, was laid to rest with the long line of his predecessors on the Danish throne, whose remains repose in the chapels in Roskilde's redstone fane. The coffin lay in the chancel beneath a black and gold bladachin supported by high officers in full dress uniforms. The only decoration on it was a golden branch, a tribute from the children of Denmark. Leaning against the altar rails were floral tributes from foreign monarchs and members of the Danish royal family.

Royal Mourners Arrive.

Members of the riksdag and of the folkething having deposited wreaths on the coffin, before 2 p. m. Queen Alexandra, the dowager empress of Russia, the queen of Denmark, the duchess of Cumberland and the other royal ladies emerged from the apse and seated themselves in the front row of chairs to the left of the coffin. Then a stir at the door of the cathedral heralded the arrival of the king, and while the organ played Beethoven's majestic funeral march the royal procession swept up the center aisle. King Frederick was attired as a Danish general. Emperor William, in the uniform of a Danish admiral, walked at his left, and the king of Greece at his right, both keeping a little behind him. King Haakon and the other royal personages and the representatives of foreign sovereigns followed.

"Le Roi Est Mort; Vive Le Roi."

The royal mourners having been seated the service began with the singing of a hymn, and then Dr. Roerdam delivered a long panegyric touching on the principal incidents of the king's reign, dwelling on the great economical and political strides of the country under his beneficent rule, and addressing consoling words to the many bereaved royal personages throughout Europe. The sermon was followed with another hymn, the royal mourners joining in the singing. Then to the strains of a funeral march, eight officers carried the coffin from the chancel across to the chapel of Frederick. As the solemn notes pealed forth the windows of the cathedral were shaken by a salute of twenty-one guns from a battery outside, while simultaneously in the town all flags were hoisted from half-mast to the mastthead in honor of the new king.

In His "Windowless Palace of Rest."

A short wait ensued while the coffin was being deposited in the sarcophages. Then King Frederick and Queen Louisa, followed by Emperor William and Queen Alexandra, and King Haakon and the dowager empress of Russia, the four walking abreast, proceeded to the chapel, where Dr. Paulli read the burial service in the presence only of the royal personages, the foreign representatives and the ministers. Earth being thrice thrown on the coffin the Lord's prayer was repeated and the service concluded with the benediction.

Wolfe Boosting Judge Timlin

"The La Crosse County Bar association and the La Crosse bankers have indorsed W. H. Timlin for justice of the supreme court," said W. F. Wolfe, late democratic candidate for attorney-general, at the Plankinton in Milwaukee yesterday.

"Of course, the Seventh Congressional district will give a strong support to Judge James O'Neill, but we are the largest county in the district, and this will go a long way in overcoming the O'Neill sentiment, when it comes to the showdown.

"La Crosse is still on the map. We have just constructed a $250,000 electric light plant to buck the old corporation that was taxing the people out of all proportion for their lights."

MOTHER AND SON INJURED GOING TO CHURCH SERVICES

While on their way to church last evening Mrs. L. J. Marshall and son Hugh of 2019 Wood street were thrown out of their cutter in turning a sharp corner at Avon and Logan streets. Mrs. Marshall sustained a dislocation of the right shoulder, while her son suffered bruises about the head. Mrs. Marshall was taken to Dr. R. I. M. Kinnear's home near by, where the shoulder was set and was then taken to her home. She was resting easily today and will soon recover from the effects of the fall.

STABBED IN ROW OVER 15 CENTS

RACINE, Wis., Feb. 19.—Michael Hilma, laborer and Wlad Syukie, saloon keeper, quarreled last night over the pay of 10 cents worth of whisky and 5 cents worth of beer. As a result Hilma whipped out a large pocket knife and stabbed Skukie in the back, inflicting what is supposed to be a fatal wound. After doing the cutting Hilma ran to his home. When the police went after him he was armed with a large butcher knife and Desk Sergeant Johnson was obliged to arrest him at the muzzle of a revolver. Hilma first sent his 10 year old daughter to the saloon after the liquor but it was refused her on account of she being a minor. Enraged Hilma ran to the saloon and demanded an explanation. After he got the liquor he refused to pay for it. The saloon man took it away and was cut. Both men are married and have families.

MILLION DOLLAR FIRE AT DULUTH

Duluth, Minn., Feb. 19.—The wooden working house of the Duluth grain elevator plant of F. H. Peavey & Co., of Minneapolis, was burned to the ground with its contents. The loss on the grain and house is estimated at $1,000,000, and is fully coverd by insurance. The elevator was known as the "PV" and it is the receiving and shipping house for the great Peavey concerns storage house with a capacity of 4,000,000.

The cost of the burned structure was $350,000, and it contained 500,000 bushels of wheat, 250,000 bushels of flax, 150,000 bushels of oats, and 90,000 bushels of rye. Local officials of the company assert that the salvage on the grain may amount to 20 per cent., but an investigation may change this figure.

HAIR CUTTING GIVES WAY TO TUG OF WAR

Ann Arbor, Mich., Feb. 19.—The old time custom of hair cutting between freshmen and sophomores was formally abolished by the senior council, and in its place will be held a tug of war. Each class will choose 100 of its huskiest men, and the two teams will line up on opposite sides of the Huron river, with a long rope between them.

On the word they will lay to, and each team will try to pull its rivals down the bank into the river, and then through the water across to the opposite bank. A shallow place in the river will be chosen, so there will be no danger of drowning. One of the rules of the contest will be that no one shall let go of the rope until the contest is formally declared at an end, so the losing contingent will have to stand for its trip through the river.

CADETS' HOP

DELAFIELD, Wis., Feb. 19.—Students of St. John's Military academy held their annual midwinter hop Saturday evening, entertaining in brilliant social manner parties of young women from Milwaukee, Waukesha, Oconomowoc, and other nearby cities. In the afternoon prior to the party a basketball game was given for the entertainment of the guests. Tonight's dance was a dress affair and was largely attended.. The Milwaukee delegation included a party of Mrs. J. H. Folsom's pupils chaperoned bl Mrs. Ida Howie Walker and a number of Milwaukee-Downer students chaperoned by instructors. They will remain until tomorrow afternoon.

CELEBRATION BY ODD FELLOWS

"I attended the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the organization of the Odd Fellows lodge in Horicon," said Willard A. Van Brunt at the Pfister in Milwaukee yesterday. "It was held last week, and the names of the charter members were read out, most of whom have been gathered to the fathers. The program also embraced the reading of extracts from the minutes of the meetings, and one of these contained an account of the initiation of Mark M. Pomeroy, who later attained a national reputation for his treasonable utterances during the war of the rebellion.

"He was known all over the country as 'Brick' Pomeroy, and he gained his reputation as the publisher of the La Crosse Democrat, the circulation of which exceeded 100,000 shortly after the close of the war of the rebellion. Pomeroy was accused of being one of the instigators of the plot which resulted in the assassination of President Lincoln, but this was due to the heated condition of public sentiment at the time."

LOWGSWORTHS GO TO COUNTRY HOME

Washington, Feb. 19. — Representative and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, who were married at the White House Saturday, passed Sunday very quietly at "Friendship," the country home of John R. McLean, at Tennalytown, which they are making their temporary headquarters. The weather was pleasant most of the day, and the couple took a stroll around the beautiful grounds surrounding the place. The gates of the grounds were closed during the day.

Shortly after 4 p. m. Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Longworth left the White House by the south entrance, thereby avoiding a large and curious throng which had assembled in front of the mansion. Alone they entered a large automobile and were driven rapidly away. They went so it turned out to McLean's country home. As the bridal couple entered the automobile they were showered with dainty slippers of rice thrown by the brothers and sister of the bride and by the younger members of the Roosevelt family connections who were present.

STUDENTS FIGHT A DUEL WITH SWORDS

Philadelphia, Feb. 19.—Two students at the University of Pennsylvania, whose homes are at Paris, fought a duel on Franklin field with half-inch pointed foils to settle a dispute which occurred in the class room. The principals were Georges Emile T. Beltrami and Clataire Marie Boudy. The two men are members of the senior class of the university dental school.

The meeting was witnessed by thirty-five students. Piere Jean Rouset, another French student, acted asreferee. The bout lasted for fifteen minutes. Toward the end of the affair Boudy, who did the most damage, and who was the only one to bring blood, slashed Beltrami's sword forearm, inflicting a gash about four inches long. The referee, however, awarded the bout to Beltrami, inasmuch as he had made the first three touches upon his opponent's body.

Among the Chicagoans were Adlai T. Ewing and Judge W. G. Ewing. There were 200 guests.

The attendants were Miss Irene Seibel, of this city, and Phillip Crichfield, a brother of the groom. Rev. U. S. Davis, pastor of the First Baptist church, performed the ceremony. The bride wore a magnificent gown of white satin. The marriage unites two prominent families. The bride is one of Bloomington's fairest daughters and a society leader. The couple left later for their future home in Los Angeles.

INESE DIPLOMAT SAYS HIS COUNTRY WILL PROTECT FOREIGNERS

shington, Feb. 19. — "There is nger of a general uprising in against foreigners," said Sir ung Liang Cheng, the Chinese ter. China Not Spoiling for a Fight.

"Millions of dollars have been ex- pended by the central government in the last six years in bringing the army up to a proper condition of efficiency. China does not want to go to war. We are a peaceable people. War is hate- ful, awful, horrible—hell!"

"Is there likelihood of a foreign war?" he was asked. "None so long as the outside world lets China man- age her own affairs," said the minis- ter.

"Is it a fact that Germany, or the Germans, mainly are responsible for a large part of the threatening trouble in China at present?" he was asked.

Thinks Germany Wants the Earth.

"The Germans are aggressive," he replied. "Since the dawn of your civ- ilization the Germans have been the disturbers of the peace and repose of other peoples and nations within what is now the Christian domain. They seem always discontented with what they have. Their energy appears to demand the whole world in which to bustle. I do not say they are respon- sible in any sense for what is going on behind the scenes in China. I mere- ly tell you that I have heard that stated in well informed and responsi- ble quarters."

Something He Couldn't Understand.

"Why is the government of the Unit- ed States strengthening its military forces in the Orient?" was suggested. "That is something I do not under- stand," replied Sir Chentung.

olan Fires Another Broad- side at President Mitchell ittsburg, Feb. 19.—In a statement t made public President Dolan, of local district United Mine Work- scores the methods of President n Mitchell. The statement says: esident Mitchell is trying to shirk responsibility for the mess he has ten the miners of this country into saying that I am evidently trying divide the miners' forces. I am : I am trying to save the miners m the dangers which threaten them, ause of Mitchell's lack of courage. tchell, and Mitchell alone, is respon- le for the serious situation which fronts the miners. He got started ong in the joint convention, and in't have the courage and common se to make a temporary retreat en he saw he was worsted. * * *

Offer Made by the Operators.

"He led the argument for the min- s by demanding an advance in wages the claim that prices of coal were gher at that time than they were o years ago. The operators immedi- ely took him at his word and of- red to bring in the books of all the mpanies in the country, large and mall, and have them examined, if the iners would agree to take a reduction the price were shown to be lower: ie operators to pay an advance if the rice were shown to be higher.

Declines to Answer Robbins.

"F. L. Robbins asked Mitchell to ac- ept that offer. Mitchell never let on hat he heard the question. Robbins epeated the question a half dozen mes, and Mitchell sat staring into pace. Robbins appealed to the chair, nd the chair ruled that Mitchell ought o answer the question. Mitchell then rose and said: 'I decline to answer.' From that time on our cake was dough. Mitchell may say I am not smart nough to write an intelligent state- nent, but a man does not have to ave a college education to know when e is whipped, and the operators had as whipped from that moment."

THEY "CALLED OUR BLUFF"

National President Accused of Having a Case of "Big-Head."

Dolan then goes on to say: "When Mitchell saw what a mess he was in he tried to scare the operators from following up their advantage by mak- ing radical statements and playing to the galleries. He thought he would scare the operators by the threat of a national strike, but the operators called our bluff. * * * From the the time Mitchell made that first blun- der he went from bad to worse, until the Ryan resolution made our situation hopeless. * * * Mitchell has al- ways lacked courage. He is more care- ful of his own reputation as a suc- cessful leader than he is of the inter- ests of his people. Never in his career has he fought against the popular tide, no matter whether is was right or wrong. Two years ago, when the op- erators whipped him into line for a re- duction, he disappeared from the con- vention with an attack of what he called 'nervous prostration.'

"Mitchell says I have always been unfriendly to his administration. I have not, although he has always fought me. I had the 'gall' to be a candidate for national vice president against him in 1898, and he never for- gave me. I have letters in my desk to prove that he sent organizers into this field and issued orders to spare no expense to have me defeated for district president in my own field. And it was the union's money and not his own that he was willing to be so lav- ish with to vent a personal spite.

"It has been evident for years past to everybody connected with the la- bor movement that Mitchell is suffer- ing from a common, ordinary dose of 'big-head.' He is working all the time toward one-man power, and the truth of the matter is that he is not in touch with his own people or with the min- ing situation. Circumstances have made him. The tide has always been in his favor until lately, and now he does not measure up to his job. It takes something besides a Prince Al- bert coat and a carnation in the but- tonhole to make a real labor leader. It takes common sense and courage, and the man who lacks either ought to hire somebody to tell him of his short-com- ings and retire from his job."

IOWA'S PURE FOOD LAW

Des Moines, Ia., Feb. 19.—Iowa has given congress a pointer on expediting business. A pure food bill, the like of which has been before congress for several sessions, passed the house with- out a dissenting vote. The same bill passed the senate unanimously, so now it lacks only the signature of Governor Cummins to become a law.

The bill gives the state dairy and food commissioner authority to inspect, and with the assistance of the official chemist determine if any articles of- fered for sale in the state to be "used for food, confectionery, or condiment by any man or any domestic animal" is adulterated or misgraded.

One provision of the bill makes the following exception: "Any manufac- turer, wholesaler, or jobber may keep goods specifically set apart in his stock for sale in other states which might otherwise be in violation of the pro- visions of this act."

Robbers Beaten Off After Fatal Fight

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 19.—At a point on the Chihuahua Pacific railroad some miles from Tomas, Mex., Wm. Smith and seven Mexicans who were on their way to the Dolores mine with a considera- ble sum of money, were attacked by four robbers and a bloody battle was fought, says a Herald special from Chihauhau.

Two of Smith's party were killed and Smith fell mortally wounded. The rob- bers, although failing in their attempt to secure the money from the Mexican party, made good their escape. Two citizens of the United States have been arrested on suspicion, and a posse is now scouring the country for some trace of the escaped bandits.

JOHN A. M'CALL IS DEAD

New York, Feb. 19.—John A. McCall, until recently president of the New York Life Insurance company, died at 5:35 p. m. yesterday at the Laurel House in Lakewood, N. J., where he had been taken three weeks ago in the hope that the change might benefit his health, which had suffered a breakdown two months ago. McCall had been unconscious since about 1 a. m., except possibly for one brief min- ute in the afternoon, when his eyes opened and looked into the face of his wife who was bending over him. He smiled, and as he did so his eyes closed again and he remained in the coma un- til the end.

His death is probably the result of the nervous strain consequent upon the insurance disclosures. One of his last business transactions was to raise mon- ey and pay the amounts not definitely accounted for by Andrew Hamilton to the New York Life. He was 56 years old.

Thrilling Fall Over Niagara

Niagaga Falls, Ont., Feb. 19.—Ed- ward Fenton, of Toronto, had a thrill- ing escape from terrible death at the falls. He was walking along the top of the cliff of the gorge just opposite the whirlpool, when he slipped on the ice and went over the ledge. Just as he was disappearing he seized hold of a thorn bush on the brink of the precipice.

He could not gain a foothold, but his companion, Harvey Whetmore, also of Toronto, took off his overcoat and let it down to Fenton, who succeeded in transferring his hold from the thorn bush to the coat, and was gradually drawn to a place of safety at the im- minent risk of both his own life and Whetmore's.

TO SAVE HIS BROTHER

Sioux City, Ia., Feb. 19.—At Ida Grove in the trial of Fred McCutchen, charged with accepting deposits in the bank at Ida Grove when he new the bank was insolvent, Carl McCutchen, his brother, created a sensation by go- ing on the witness stand and incrim- inating his brother.

The witness, in a voice choked with emotion, said that he, and not his brother, accepted a deposit of $145 in the bank on Jan. 7, 1904, a few days before the death of E. P. Mutchen and the failure of the bank. The act of Carl will probably save Fred McCutchen.

Rheumatic Pains

"I have suffered terribly with rheumatism. I took Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills and they gave me great relief. I have spells of ter- rible pains in my ribs, and in the small of my back, and the Anti-Pain Pills help me right away. I am now well of the rheumatism and think Anti-Pain Pills done me more good than all the other medi- cines. I first heard of them through the following circum- stance that happened at our home two years ago. A friend, Mrs. Brown, of Orion, Mich., came to visit us. She had not been able to dress herself or comb her own hair for months. A friend of ours came in and seeing her suffering offered her some Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. She laughed at the idea of relief from such a source after doctoring for so long, but took one one of the tablets with the remark that it would at least do her no harm. She took another that evening, and the next morning she was so elated that she went to the druggist's and got a package and took them home with her. Re- cently she was here again, and told us that she continued taking the pills, and that one box cured her, and she has not had a symptom of rheumatism since."

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first package will benefit. If it fails, he will return your money. 25 doses, 25 cents. Never sold in bulk.
